The standard expected for theses/papers in DES

The expectation by the DES is that the thesis or dissertation draft presented to the committee will be a final draft version. Scientific ideas in a thesis or dissertation must be clearly stated in correct grammar. The grammar should be so correct that, unless unanticipated problems arise during the defense, the defense copy and the final submitted copy should be substantially the same. The defense copy should contain appropriate notes, bibliography, tables, figures, etc. Both the advisor and the student are responsible for assuring that there has been adequate consultation with committee members well in advance of the thesis or dissertation defense. If a previous draft was read and comments were submitted to the student, then the student should have either incorporated the comments into the thesis or dissertation or should have supplied justification as to why the comments were not incorporated.

If pre-published work is included in the thesis or dissertation, it must be consistent with the rest of the document, so that the result is a cohesive document with an introduction that provides a framework for linking the chapters and a conclusion. Thus, the thesis or dissertation provides a source for those who want to study the research in greater detail than can be found in a journal article.

Candidate: I understand and will comply with the standards for a thesis or dissertation stated above. _____ Date _____
