

BRANDON PACE, FAIA

Principal // Sanders Pace Architecture // Knoxville, TN

In a lecture titled "In Context," Brandon will explore how the varied historic, social, and cultural circumstances of his City has helped to establish the foundation and framework for the Firm's design process. Brandon will share the stories of several active and recently completed projects to illustrate how this process plays out in ways which challenge local convention in ways which raise expectations and heighten awareness of important issues within the City.
